(6), 80, (4), 52, (8)pp. 100 fine collotype plates hors texte, on heavy titled mounts. Numerous illus. Folio. Portfolios (boards, 1/4 cloth; ties). Edition limited to 500 numbered copies. Public schools, hospitals, fire stations and police stations, boathouses and pier buildings, and Beaux-Arts subway pavilions. Most (80 of 100) of the plates are from exceptionally fine photographs, some of them reminiscent of Frances Benjamin Johnston. In addition to his projects as Boston's city architect from 1891 to 1895, Wheelwright (1854-1912) was also the author of several architectural publications, including one on a specialty of his, "School Architecture" (1901). "Wheelwright's architectural imagination was wide; he sought the monumental, the classic solution. Stylistically he was catholic, even erratic. Some of his schools are Italianate, some Georgian, some rather nondescript; the half-timber of the hospitals and the Marine Park Bath House is blatant...Yet in all the work there is counter-trend apparent, based on strict practicality and basic simplicity; and some of the municipal work, like the Hook and Ladder House No. 1 and the Eustis School, has a colonial style remarkably pure and charming for its date" (DAB). Portfolios torn at backstrips, preliminaries a bit chipped, the balance in fine condition. Institutional ex-libris. Boston (Bates & Guild Company), 1898. Placzek IV.389; DAB XX.61f
